SUMMARY

Hi, my name is Sotheavann Chhorn and I'm a Full-Stack Web Developer with a passion for building digital experiences. I've spent the last several years developing modern web applications using a wide range of tools and technologies. What I enjoy most is turning a simple concept into a complete, functional, and scalable solution. I focus on clean code, intuitive user interfaces, and efficient backend systems. Whether it's building internal tools, public-facing platforms, or API integrations, I strive to create fast, reliable, and future-proof systems that just work — and keep working.
